Del Mar Television Producers Win National and Local Video Awards

The Del Mar Television Foundation (DMTF) is proud to announce that at the 2005 San Diego County Fair Video Awards, several of its members won for their productions. The program “Powerhouse Park Concert – The Corvettes” produced by Jeff Stone & Bob Ganey placed 1st in the Entertainment Category. This show featured San Diego’s very own Doo Wop and Motown Show Band, proving that the Powerhouse Concerts are fun for the whole family. Del Mar resident and Foundation member Luana Karr, producer of “Volunteers to the Rescue”, placed 1st in the Informational/Public Affairs Category for this program’s demonstration on how important the volunteers of San Diego’s Sheriff’s Search and Rescue Team are to local communities. The Del Mar TV Idol – Finals, which is a DMTF event, placed 3rd in the Entertainment Category, while “Middle School Sports Magic” produced by DMTF member Tracy Phillips received an Honorable Mention from the educational division. “Kids News Episode 15” placed 4th in the Educational Category and Producers Showcase #22 “In Tempo with the Postman” placed 4th in Entertainment. DMTF member Maria Gardiner produced these shows with help from Luana Karr her Co-producer for the program Kids News. Congratulations to all the winners and big thanks for their support!

“Children’s History of Del Mar” won a National Award in the Hometown Video Festival. This educational program was created for elementary school children, narrated by third graders. The program teaches children (and adults) about Del Mar illustrious past from the Ipai and Kumeyaay Indians through Del Mar’s Incorporation. DMTF members Tracy Phillips and Nicole Holliday produced the show. Congratulations on winning this award! This show is not only entertaining but also contributes to the City’s historical archive.

All of these shows can be seen on the Del Mar TV Foundation website as streaming video: <http://www.delmartv.com/video> . For further information please contact us at (858)481-2882 or email questions and comments to dmtv@delmartv.com .
